History of Rome.—Prize Fight Between the Horatii and Curiatii.

Romulus had established a year of ten months but Numa found that unsatisfactory, being too short. He had some notes maturing in a year and he found how short it was as many others have since under similar circumstances. He discovered that time flies. Up to that time it had not been noticed.

The first of the year began on March which was named after Mars' god of war. People did not like to have New Year's day come at the time of year when everybody was busy moving, and that was another reason for changing the year.

Numa's reign gave great satisfaction and folks read about it in the newspapers. It was called the "era of good feeling," and almost to the time of Monroe's administration a good many years later. But Numa died. The people gave him an expensive funeral. Congress adjourned and appointed a committee to attend the funeral in style and chose the best orator of the time to deliver a funeral oration and then proceeded to forget Numa the next day and began to scramble for his shoes. The government paid the expenses of the funeral and levied a tax on the people and they thought it a blessed privilege to be a Roman.

Tullus Hostilius was elected to the throne by a large majority after an exciting campaign in which the stump speakers had said many mean things about each other and the newspapers waged a fierce war. Most of the editors got postoffices, so everything was lovely thereafter and the goose hung high.

The new king was an expansionist and felt that Rome had been losing ground by sticking too close at home, so he decided to stir up trouble and have a little fun. They got into a dispute with the Albans, a people who had settled out west some years before and had made a lot of good farms that were worth trying to annex.

They were about to engage in a heavy battle when they thought of a way in which the contest might be decided with less loss of life, and as both sides were a trifle short of men, they proposed a scheme to settle their quarrel, and at the same time save the men.

They decided to settle it by means of a prize fight between three brothers called the Horatii and three Albans called the Curiatii. There were the usual preliminaries through the papers and they sent challenges to each other till the people laughed at them, and finally when they could not put it off any longer, they came together, and at the first round two of the Horatii fell mortally wounded. Horatius, the Roman who stood his ground, was

GRAND JURY

Return First Degree Indictments Against Three Murderers.

The grand jury has been in session over a week, and have examined 200 witnesses, covering eleven cases, and returned eleven indictments. The most prominent of these was that of A. G. Binghamon, who was indicted on two counts, for killing his wife, murder in the first degree; for the killing of his son-in-law, James Bradley, murder in the second degree, and that of Robert Mendenhall and his father, Edward Mendenhall, of Clifton, who were indicted for murder in the first degree for killing John Beck, of Springfield, at the Cliffs last summer, the son doing the killing at the bidding of the father.

Other indictments returned were against George Thomas for grand larceny, he having stolen a couple of steers of Samuel Smith. Mose Jones was indicted for having broken into the Hensel butcher shop and stealing a quantity of meat.

Dowie in England.

John Alexander Dowie appears to be creating just the kind of a stir which he would wish over in England. By vilifying physicians, lawyers, ministers, journalists, etc., he has succeeded in getting these men to pay some attention to him and begin to combat him. He says he is spoiling for a fight and no one doubts it for it is just such things which give him notoriety which he is after and which will bring him a certain class of converts.

The English doctors declare that they are making arrangements to petition the next parliament to pass an act for the suppression of such humbug as Dowie. There are no laws in England to fit his case and they have come to the conclusion that nothing else will suffice to prevent him doing a lot of harm.

Dowie in one of his recent sermons stated that if England and United States were to become engaged in war, he would go over in Canada and pray that England come out victorious.

A learned London minister says that America seems strangely prolific of such freakish characters.

Thought It Was a Big Canon.

Last Tuesday nature determined to have a little celebration of her own, in the nature of a small thunder shower. Without taking time to glance out at the elements many of our citizens mistook the thunder for the booming of canon in honor of Gov. Roosevelt.

In one of our business houses the following conversation took place: Clerk No. 1. (At first crash of thunder.) "Well they are commencing celebrating rather early in Xenia."

Clerk No. 2. "They must have a big canon to be heard this far."

Clerk No. 1. (As thunder continued.) "They must have more than one or else they are loading awfully fast."

Clerk No. 2. "Yes, but even then it must seem awfully tame to Roosevelt after hearing the roar of cannons at San Juan hill."

Clerk No. 1. "I wonder if they are going to keep it up all day."

Just then a customer came in and remarked that it looked like there was going to be a big storm, and clerk No. 1 and 2 looked as though it would give them a great deal of satisfaction to be able to kick themselves real hard.

Morrow Wants a Traction Line.

A number of citizens of both Morrow and Blanchester are of the opinion that a traction line running south from this place will be a good investment and are determined that one will be built. Such a line has been talked of for some time but nothing definite occurred until last Tuesday afternoon when a meeting was held in this place for the purpose of organizing a

SMALLPOX

Death Came During the Afternoon and the Body was Entered Wednesday Night.

Consternation and grave fears for the welfare of Clifton is the prevailing feeling over the death of one of their well known citizens from small-pox. J. Humbarger father-in-law of David Hiltz, succumbed to the disease Wednesday afternoon after a brief illness. He was one of the oldest and best known residents, being in his 85th year. He was not ill long and it is surmised that his extreme age in a measure prevented his recovery. This is the first death here from small-pox in many years and the citizens and farmers of the surrounding country, are exercised over what they recognize as a serious menace.

David Hiltz, a son-in-law of the deceased man, recently returned from Paris and it is believed brought the germs of the dread disease home with him. The old gentleman lived with his son-in-law and in this manner contracted the disease.

The board of health is in full possession of the facts surrounding the case and a strict quarantine of the house is being maintained. So far the indications point to the fact the disease is confined to this one house and it is hoped to keep it there.

The deceased died about the middle of the afternoon and buried that night at 8 o'clock.—Springfield Sun.

Under Bond.

Constable John Ross met with something of an accident last Monday evening while he and his wife were returning from Xenia. When near Mr. Samuel Hethcock's they were overtaken by two men who were driving at a very fast gait and as they passed they uttered a vile oath. Mr. Ross then whipped up and overtook them, alighting from his buggy he grabbed their horse and placed them under arrest. When he went to the buggy they resisted, both being under the influence of liquor. He reached into the buggy and took hold of Trone Milburn, who had a knife in his hand. His pal, Frosty Maloy, then raised up in the buggy and struck Ross with a whisky bottle which dazed him and at the same time cut an artery in his forehead. The men whipped up and as they passed the buggy which Mrs. Ross was in, they lit it and turned it square around in the road.

Mr. Ross was then brought to town and had his wounds dressed. It was also found that he had been cut by the knife in the palm of the hand. Thursday warrants were sworn out for these men, on three charges: cutting with intent to kill; striking with intent to kill; resisting an officer, and the hearing was held before Squire Jackson yesterday, who bound them over to the grand jury in the sum of $500 each. Maloy is from Dayton, and Milburn from Xenia. Both are bad characters and both had trouble in Xenia before coming here.

THE GRIM REAPER

Cats Down Greene County's Most Prominent Citizen, Hon. John Little.

It is with deepest regret that we have to record the death of one of our eminent statesmen and Greene Co's foremost citizen, Hon. John Little, of Xenia. The sad news received early Friday morning and the deepest regret was shown by the citizens for for it is realized that Greene County has lost her leading citizen.

About a month ago Mr. Little suffered a severe attack of indigestion from which it required several days to recover. On Thursday about noon he was taken with another severe spell of indigestion. His physician was summoned and every available aid was administered, but at 10 o'clock that night the great spirit was removed.

THE GRIM REAPER

Cats Down Greene County's Most Prominent Citizen, Hon. John Little.

John Little was born in Ross township Greene county Ohio, April 25th, 1837, his parents having moved to this county from Virginia in 1833, and settled upon a tract of woodland. His early days were spent in assisting his father to prepare the land for cultivation, and his early education was obtained at the country schools, which he was required to attend with great regularity. In 1856 he entered Antioch college, and after two years in the preparatory and four years in the collegiate department, was graduated in 1862.

After leaving college he taught school for a short time. He was admitted to the bar in 1865. In 1868 he was elected Prosecuting Attorney and re-elected in 1869. In 1869 was elected Representative to the State Legislature, resigning his former office. In 1873 he was elected Attorney-General of Ohio, and held that office two terms. He was elected to the Forty-ninth Congress in 1884 and gained considerable distinction while serving in that capacity. He was also a member of the Venezuelan Commission, and was at the time of his death a member of the State Board of Arbitration. For a number of years he has been a trustee of Antioch College.

Mr. Little's latest public position was that of being a member of the new court house building commission, which body may congratulate themselves that they have had the advice of such a broad minded man.

Politically Mr. Little has always been with the Republican forces and during all his canvass it can truthfully be said that no man ever heard him say an ill word of an opponent. In fact he was the strongest man in Greene county, his political speeches and arguments have drawn the attention of the leading statesmen of this country. As an attorney he never gave his assistance in a case in which he did not believe justice to be on his side.

On October 19, 1892, he was married to Miss Barbara J. Sheets, of near Troy, and to them were born two children, Mr. George Little and Miss Mary Little. Two brothers and two sisters survive: Asa Little, County Treasurer, Jerry H. Little, Yellow Springs, Mrs. H. J. Flagg, Xenia, and Mrs. J. M. Birch, Yellow Springs.

The funeral services will take place from his late residence at 2 o'clock Sabbath afternoon.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower will cure the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother and grand-mother never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form to make you satisfied there is nothing outside the matter with you. For sale by C. M. Ridgway.
